BIO: My name is Nick Pritchard, and for the past 10 months I have been employed as a Narrative Designer for Cluedupp Games, an independent games studio specialising in narrative driven outdoor gaming experiences. I am now seeking new employment following company restructuring in response to the Coronavirus epidemic. I am looking for either a narrative development, or more general game design role. Having spent over a decade in narrative design, including writing and producing award winning short films, I began my transition into the games industry at the end of 2017, self-publishing several games on multiple platforms in the years since. Games Design has always been a passion of mine, and with a dual industry background, I am able to leverage knowledge and experience from both industries to deliver impactful narrative content, and engaging level design.

KEY SKILLS & QUALITIES:

- 3 years' experience in C# development in Unity, 1 year experience in Unreal.
- 10 years' experience in narrative development/design and script writing.
- Experience in game development teams both managerially and as a member.
- Experience in marketing and advertisement of Media products and events.
- Experience in management of budgets and teams.
- Excellent communicator with the ability to encourage and motivate others.
- Efficient and hard working.
- Punctual, reliable, and able to work to deadlines.
- Able to cope under pressure and remain calm in stressful situations.
- Strong team ethic.
- Creative and open to challenges.

If You Can We Can:

Ones To Watch – Finalist. Deans' Award 2019 – Teesside University

QUALIFICATIONS:

Teesside University 2018 -2019 - MA Video Game Design (Distinction): During my time at Teesside University I was able to elevate my work in the Game Design field from hobby to professional endeavour. Over the course of the year and a half tuition I worked on several projects as both part of a team and individually.

Each of these projects presented new and interesting challenges to help develop my skills within the field. Whilst I experienced elements of every role, my work focused on narrative development and voice-over work, expanding upon what I had learned from my time in the Film and TV Industry. As of July 2019, I have graduated with Distinction, and received the Deans' Award for the highest marked average across all taught provision in the School of Computing and Media.

York University 2011-2014: BSC Film and Television Production (Involving both theoretical and practical use of equipment in all areas of production)

GCSE: 7 A* and 2 A grades including Mathematics, English, Latin, and Science Double Award.

A-Levels: 3 A and 1 B grade in Biology, Chemistry, English and Mathematics.
